I wanted to personally welcome you back and let you know we're happy to have you returning to work.

We recognize that returning after time away can be an adjustment, and we want to support you during that transition. Please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions or concerns as you get reacquainted with your work and team.

As you return, is there anything you'd like to discuss or any support you need from us?

We're looking forward to having you back and wish you continued success as you ease into your regular routine.
